

HYATT REGENCY
ATLANTA
in Peachtree Center

Atlanta, Georgia

The heart of modern Atlanta is Peachtree Center, a look at tomorrow today . . . with office towers, covered skyways connecting its buildings, charming garden plazas, works of art, shops, restaurants, a unique dinner theater and much, much more.

A major attraction of Peachtree Center is the Hyatt Regency Atlanta, the Center's first hotel and an essential part of the exciting complex . . . so much a part that you won't even have to venture outdoors to enjoy all that the Center has to offer.

Step into the lobby and you know immediately why the Hyatt Regency Atlanta is the most talked about hotel of the past decade . . . the hotel that led the way in new architecture. The famous open atrium lobby stretches upward, a great expanse of skylit space some 23 stories high. A graceful sculpture of gold and silver aluminum and stainless steel seems to grow like a flower from 2 floors below the main level to the tips of its petals 12 stories into the atrium. Called Flora Raris, this objet d'art is the work of famed sculptor Richard Lippold. Elevators like space capsules zoom up through the roof into a sparkling blue dome. Sounds of bird calls and tinkling crystal from a "sidewalk" cafe float furnishings, carpeting, wall coverings, drapes . . . new decor in the restaurants. After all, the most talked about hotel should have something new to talk about.

There are all kinds of extra comforts . . . color television, in-house movies, conversation areas, and the pleasure of lots of space.

For dining, cocktails, and entertainment you have enviable choices. There's superb Continental fare at Hugo's® served in a quietly elegant atmosphere of teak and leather . . . a romantic candlelight retreat by night. That's the time that things really happen at Club Atlantis where you can have cocktails, entertainment and dancing in an intimate subterranean atmosphere. You can enjoy satisfying meals, drinks or light snacks at our sidewalk Kafe Kobenhavn. A favorite with businessmen is the Clock of 5's restaurant . . . rotisserie, great beef dishes, Five Star duckling as well as a food bar . . .

all in a provincial atmosphere. Fast friendly service and hearty drinks also have a lot to do with its popularity. One of the sights to see is Le Parasol, one of the world's most unique cocktail spots. It's sheltered by a suspended roof of sculptured iron and plexiglas. From your vantage point you see beautifully colored macaws in the nearby aviary. A more secluded place is the Amper-sand...relaxed atmosphere, piano, hearty drinks. How about a round trip in the Polaris® Cocktail Lounge? It takes 41 minutes to revolve 360 degrees. So relax and enjoy a tasty lunch, a good drink, and the spectacular view.

The Hyatt Regency Atlanta is located in the heart of modern Atlanta . . . in fascinating Peachtree Center. 15 minutes from Hartsfield International Airport . . . 5 minutes from the mammoth Georgia World Congress Center.
